RE: Energy and fuel policy for California

Corn ethanol policy is good for gasoline refiners

Corn ethanol policy increases oil use and increases oil profit

The car tax of AB 118 Nunez is an oil company welfare program

Italy used public/private partnerships as a business model in the early '40s

In my opinion the corn ethanol waiver allowed in the 2005 fed energy bill would lower gas prices, improve miles per gal, lower oil use and improve the air.

EPA Extends RFS Waiver Comment Period

National Hog Farmer, Sep. 17, 2012 3:06pm

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) recently extended until Oct. 11 the deadline for filing comments on requests that it waive the federal Renewable Fuels Standard (RFS), which requires a certain amount of corn ethanol to be blended into gasoline annually.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) recently extended until Oct. 11 the deadline for filing comments on requests that it waive the federal Renewable Fuels Standard (RFS), which requires a certain amount of corn ethanol to be blended into gasoline annually.

With drought conditions in most of the Corn Belt their worst in more than 50 years and corn yields expected to drop significantly, the National Pork Producers Council (NPPC), a number of other livestock and poultry groups, eight governors and 34 Senate and 156 House members have asked EPA to waive the federal mandate for the production of corn ethanol.

NPPC is urging pork industry representatives to submit comments. To comment as a producer, click here. To comment as an employee, click here. To comment as an allied industry member, click here.

The EPA administrator, in consultation with the secretary of agriculture and the secretary of energy, must approve or disapprove a petition for the waiver of the RFS volume requirements within 90 days after the date on which the petition is received by the administrator.

What would a California judge do with AB 118 Nunez/Arnold?

AAA said it would not pass a court test.

GMO corn food will be considered for a label in November.

GMO Corn in my food and gas stinks.

Arnold ask the fed for a waiver and the Clinton EPA agreed

Arnold-George W EPA said NO and agrees with MITT.

UN, World Bank, many Governors, Several Congressmen, Bill Clinton & Al Gore say GMO ethanol in the gas is bad policy.
